SUPREME COURT HOLDS THAT 1911 REVENUE ACT IS VALID

In Reversing Former Decision Court Holds That Property Tax is Standard of Equasion and Poll Tax is Adjusted Automatically--Auditor Directed to Make Poll Tax $1.35.

Special to The Telegram.

Raleigh, April 12.—The Supreme court this afternoon in the case of Kitchen vs. Wood unanimously reversed the precedent in the case of Russell vs. Ayer, handed down in 1897, when it declared that the 1911 revenue act was valid. The court holds that the constitution is mandatory and self-executing as to the equasion of property and poll tax, the property tax being the standard of the equasion; that when the property tax is fixed by the legislature the poll tax adjusts itself automatically on the basis of three to one.

The recent legislature raised the property tax levy for schools two cents on the $100 valuation, making the total levy on property 45 cents on the $100 valuation. However, it inadvertently neglected to raise the poll tax from $1.29 to $1.35 as was required by the constitution.

There is no reason, the court declares, why the tax officers shall not observe the plain letter of the constitution and adjust the rate in the 1911 act by advancing the poll tax from $1.29 to $1.35 and thus maintain the parity required by the constitution. The State Auditor is directed to advance the poll from $1.29 to $1.35.

This case was brought into court to test the law, the state contending that the poll should be adjusted to the property tax and not the property tax to the poll. The contentions of Auditor Wood were that inasmuch as the legislature had failed to fix the poll tax at three times the amount of the property tax the act was void and that the revenue act of 1909 was effective.

The case was argued in Greensboro before Judge F. A. Daniels, who, in view of the decision of the Supreme Court in 1897, held that the contentions of the auditor were correct. The state appealed to the Supreme Court in the hope that the former decision would be reversed.

Had the court held that the ruling of the court in 1897 was correct the schools of the state would have lost thousands of dollars which the recent legislature thought it was adding to the school fund. The news that the act is not void will be hailed with delight by the educators of the state for the school fund has been inadequate for several years.

CONVICTS ARE WANTED FOR RAILROAD GRADING

Great Demand for This Class of Labor—Freight Rates on Brick Still Unsettled—Train Service up Again—Big Money for Power Development.

Special to The Telegram.

Raleigh, April 12.—This is Halifax Resolves day, a new legal holiday created by the 1908 legislature in celebration of the Revolutionary resolves adopted by the patriots of Halifax, April 12, 1776, when the delegates to the Continental Congress were instructed for independence. The state offices were closed most of the day as were the banks of the city.

Charters Granted. A charter was granted today for the Piney Woods Inn, of Southern Pines, capital $100,000 by Edmund Millen, Frederick Bloomer and others.

There was an amendment today for the charter of the Bank of Elizabethtown increasing the authorized capital from $10,000 to $100,000. J. Bryant Clark is president.

Owls' Nests Discussed.

There was a long conference this morning between Junius Hoover, of the Order of Owls, home nest South Bend, Ind., and Commissioner of Insurance James R. Young, relative to the prosecutions that are on in this state against agents of the order for attempting to form nests in this state without having the state license. There is an attempt to settle the contest and get the order admitted for North Carolina business but this has not been done yet.

There is a similar difficulty in South Carolina with Commissioner McMillen and the movement is to adjust the two together.

Railroad Enterprises.

The question that is now up to the governor and council of state as to the continuation of the grading of the Matamuskeet railroad twenty-nine miles further, from Belhaven to Washington with convict labor, taking stock in the road for the labor, has developed the fact that there is the greatest sort of demand for convict labor by railroad and other enterprises in all parts of the state. A state official made the statement today that the governor and council could easily place 1,500 at $1.50 per day within the next week. However they are not available. In the first place there is very greatly increased necessity for convicts on the state farm in Halifax county. There has just been reclaimed by reconstruction of dykes swept away some years ago over three thousand acres of land that must be prepared for cultivation this year along with the regular immense acreage on the other sections of the farm. Also there is the steady decrease in the percentage of convicts being sent to the penitentiary from the superior courts. It is estimated that there are at least 1,800 convicts now doing time on the county chain gangs that a few years ago would have been sent to the state's prison. Furthermore an increasingly large percent of those sent up are physically defective so that they are really charges on the state rather than giving profitable labor. At the present time there are 25 convicts at work on the Matamuskeet railroad just completing the main line Fairfield to Belhaven and these are to be either moved to some other work or put on the Belhaven-Washington end of the line if the Washington business men put through the terminal requirements and arrange for equipment of the road. There are probably 150 convicts working on the Elkin & Alleghany railroad and 50 on the Statesville Air Line. Practically all the other convicts are on the state farm and at the main prison here in Raleigh, the number here being less than one hundred.

One railroad enterprise that is especially clamoring for convicts is the Transcontinental Railroad Company that has assumed international proportions in the matter of interesting capital, it is said. This company wants just now to construct its line from Knoxville, Tenn., to Rutherfordton in this state, the work on this being in progress on this now in a small way. The line projected runs southeast through the state to Southport and thence southwest across Florida to Panama and spreading thence

CANDIDATES ARE BECOMING ACTIVE

Municipal Campaign is Warming up and Conferences are Quite Popular—Effort Being Made to Have Large Registration—New Registration Causes Kick.

The municipal campaign for the selection of candidates for the commissionships of the city is becoming warmer as the date for the primary, in which the candidates will be selected, approaches. For the past two weeks the candidates and their supporters have been holding conferences almost nightly for the purpose of figuring on their strength and making notes. Each candidate is hard at work trying to secure as large a registration as possible.

The voters, or many of them, are kicking about having to register so often and the candidates are kept on the go explaining that the new registration was necessary because the city was divided in order that there would not be such a rush at the polls. Heretofore the voting has been at one booth and on election day there was always a rush of voters, a voter having to wait several minutes and sometimes half an hour before he could cast his ballot. With two voting places it will be easier to vote and the poll-holders and judges will not be worked so strenuously. So far nearly eight hundred have registered, over three hundred in Gilmer precinct and over four hundred in Morehead precinct. The registration books are open each afternoon this week and will be open all day next week. The books close on Saturday night, April 22. It is predicted that fully sixteen hundred voters will have registered before the books close.

It is impossible to tell just how the voting will be. There are four candidates for mayor, which office is called Commissioner of Public Accounts and Finance; four for Commissioner of Public Safety and three for Commissioner of Public Works. Judge N. L. Eure is the only candidate so far for Judge of Municipal Court and it is not believed that he will have any opposition. Nearly all the candidates have filed their announcement with the city clerk. No candidate can enter the race after April 14.

Roy Arnold Dead. Roy Arnold, 23 years of age, died last night on northbound passenger train, No. 38 a few minutes before the train reached the city. Mr. Arnold, accompanied by his mother, Mrs. Esther Arnold, of New York City, was returning home from Asheville, where he had been in the interest of his health. The remains were carried to the undertaking establishment of E. Poole and prepared for burial. Mr. Poole has not received instructions as to what disposition will be made of the body, but it is supposed that it will be sent to New York. Mrs. Arnold continued her way home last night.

Governor Kitchen Spoke At Trinity High School.

High Point, April 12.—Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather this morning a large crowd heard the address of Governor Kitchen at Trinity before the High School. His subject was education and was handled relative to its different phases—a most delightful address and one which was helpful to all who heard it. Governor Kitchen made a fine impression on the audience and everyone counted it a privilege to have heard him. He is doing much good over the State in an educational way.

The lodge rooms and banquet hall are on the second floor of one of the new brick buildings erected at White Oak. The building is a structure which would do credit to the architecture of a city and the lodge rooms and hall are commodious and conveniently arranged. The use of these rooms, together with heat and lights, is supplied free of cost to the secret orders by the owners of the mills.

A program of interest throughout had been prepared for the occasion of the dedication and opening of the new building. John J. Phoenix presided over the assembly and introduced Rev. T. G. Battle, who offered the invocation. Mr. Phoenix then delivered an address of welcome, in which he spoke of the value of fraternal orders and the fraternal spirit and of the value which the orders have been to the mill villages. He spoke feelingly of the work of Moses and Ceasar Cone in behalf of the orders and of their uniform kindness to their employees, and of the high esteem in which the memory of the former is held and of the respect and affection of the people for the present head of the business. The portraits of Moses and Ceasar Cone, hanging upon the walls of the lodge room were then unveiled. They are splendid likenesses, handsomely framed.

After the unveiling George Bayliff was introduced to the audience to represent White Oak Council, No. 225, Jr. O. U. A. M. Mr. Bayliff spoke briefly of the order, and especially of the work of the local council, saying it had been a force in the community for good and for the uplift of its members.

WINE RIOTING IN FRANCE GROWS WORSE

Troops Called to Towns Affected---Bomb Thrown at Cavalry Troop.

By Publishers' Press.

Epernay, France, April 12.—There have been a number of startling developments today in the rioting which followed the action of the Senate on the champagne question. Throughout the early hours of the evening the situation was extremely grave, but at midnight conditions had become somewhat settled, owing to the presence of formidable forces of troops in the towns affected.

News comes from the town of Ayr that a bomb was thrown at the cavalry, three troopers being wounded and a horse killed. Altogether five establishments in Epernay were practically burned to the ground, having been pillaged beforehand. The safes in these establishments were forced open and the furniture and stings heaped in the streets and set on fire.

Get busy and clean up.

Anybody can see that the Weather Man is opposed to spring baseball.

Don't forget that this is cleaning-up week in Greensboro.

Have you joined the army of folks who are working for a cleaner and more attractive city?

Columbia State thinks that there are minor league players' drawing salaries as United States Senators.

It is believed that the Congressional Record during the extra session will prove first-class campaign literature for the Democrats.

Why is it that people are never urged to do their Easter shopping early? That advice seems to be reserved exclusively for Christmas.

Champ Clark is giving a fair imitation of real leadership in Congress. The standpat republicans and joebailey democrats will please take notice.

"The Way to Reform the Senate" is the caption of an editorial in the Columbia State. We will wager there is no easy way.

It is said that there are 641 murders in Shakespeare. Shakespeare's record for killing people is almost equal to the record made in the average American city.

The calendar shows that the present is the proper time to have a city cleaning in Greensboro, but the Weather Man has lost his 1911 calendar and his bearings, also, if seen.

If the old form of municipal government suits Winston, Asheville and Raleigh it is perfectly satisfactory from Greensboro's and Wilmington's point of view.

Women are guilty of many foolish actions, but they are generally found, also, leading every movement for civic improvement and in the vanguard of every movement for the uplift and betterment of humanity.

The Woodrow Wilson boom is beginning to warm up in Philadelphia. Charles P. Donnelly, one of the Democratic leaders of that city, has started the boom for the New Jersey man in the Quaker metropolis.

The editor of the warring French newspapers in New Orleans are in the spotlight again. The editors of the Bee and Wasp has a personal difficulty and the former thrashed the latter. That is a case which the Wilmington Dispatch would describe by saying that the stinger was stung by a stinger.

It is announced that J. Pierpont Morgan will not visit the Emperor of Germany. No explanation given. Perhaps the Kaiser withdrew the invitation, after due deliberation, fearing that J. Pierpont would carry the empire home with him after his visit; and, perhaps J. Pierpont may have declined the invitation on the ground that Emperor Bill is not a citizen of sufficient financial importance to command his interest.

The man who went back to the farm two or three decades ago, is all right; but the back-to-the-farm movement nowadays is considerably hindered by the high price of lands. The cheap farm lands of this country are now to be found in the South and in certain States of the West. In what are known as the rich agricultural States farm lands are already far beyond the reach of the homeseeker.

Cotton Mill "Mergers" and Curtailment.

A correspondent of Cotton, the well known textile magazine published in Atlanta, quotes a Charlotte manufacturer as saying that the gradual alignment of the cotton mills in groups "would solve the question of curtailment" and that "the present deplorable condition of the industry would have been greatly obviated if consistent and cooperative plans of curtailment had been carried out." He believes that with the mills organized in a few great groups, their heads could form a committee and regulate production and the market and predicts that such groups will be formed, the mills in which the Dukes are heavily interested to be one of the principal groups. The consolidations, he argues, would facilitate the plans of the Dukes to build up the Southern textile trade in China and other parts of Asia.

The problem of curtailment has been approached heretofore by the mills with about the same looseness that the cotton planters have approached it and it is rather curious that this utterance of the Charlotte spinner contains the first suggestion that mill consolidation will simplify it. Obviously, the larger the proportion of spindles and looms to be placed under the direction of a single head, the easier would be the regulation and limitation of production.

Were the textile industry confined to the South or the United States a tendency towards consolidation might be cause for anxiety on the part of the planters, but there is no likelihood that a "trust" would at any time embrace the mills of England, France, Russia, Japan and Germany. There is no present likelihood of a cotton mill trust in America.

Of course there is no economy in the shutting down of a mill if it can be avoided and the more economies in production are introduced (and that is the object of consolidation) the less likely is shutting down to be forced.

Were the prediction of the Charlotte manufacturer to be realized and a large proportion of the spindles of the South to pass under the control of the Dukes and a few others the chances of the expansion of markets to be effected through the energies that they could set to work, with a consequent steadying of production, would more than offset any danger of a greater curtailment.

Manifestly, a world trust controlling the textile industry would not be without influence on the price of raw cotton, but so long as the quantity of raw cotton is barely sufficient to supply the demand the position of the planters seems safe. The ability of a sufficient number of planters to act together in withholding cotton from the markets and preventing the demoralization of prices has been successfully demonstrated in the South. The American tobacco planters have felt the screws applied by the "trust" but no country has the natural monopoly of tobacco production to the degree that the South enjoys in cotton, tobacco is not necessary to the consumer in the sense that cotton is and the market for cotton is coextensive with the civilized world.

While growth towards any and all industrial monopoly is a proper subject for vigilant observation by the people and their representatives, the processes now going on in the Southern textile field do not give cause for apprehension. On the other hand, the condition of the industry is so unfavorable that movements promising to buttress its stability rather deserve to be welcomed.—Columbia State.

The Case of Speaks.

Moses Speaks received a sentence of 30 years in the penitentiary for killing his wife and son-in-law in Guilford county. We did not follow the evidence closely, but certainly it seems that he should have been electrocuted or sent to the insane ward of the penitentiary. However, we did not hear the evidence, and we aren't going to say off-hand that there was a miscarriage of justice.—Winston-Salem Journal.

Law Making and Enforcement.

It's a funny idea some folks have in sending men to Raleigh to make laws, and then electing judges, solicitors and police officers to enforce them, yet because they happen to transgress the law themselves, or some of their friends get caught in its meshes, they want to punish the judges or solicitor or police for doing their sworn duty. The courts do not legislate; they must enforce the law as they find it on the statute books. Good citizens are interested in holding up the hands of their servants. If they allow the courts to become the football of politics, they weaken the efficiency of the law. The law is our friend; its officers are our protectors, restraining the vicious and protecting us in our rights. If Judge A. is rebuked at the ballot-box for doing his sworn duty, then Judge B. who profits by his misfortune, must make the same kind of enemies or compromise himself by being light on law-breakers.—Webster's Weekly.

Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

When You're in Company

(By MARGARET E. SANGSTER.)

Politics, religion and all topics especially interesting to gentlemen, such as the turf, the exchange, or the farm, should be excluded from general conversation when ladies are present.

Long arguments in general company, no matter how entertaining to the disputants, are to the last degree tiresome. Anecdotes should be very sparingly introduced, unless they are short, witty and appropriate.

Proverbs should be as carefully used as puns; and a pun should never be perpetrated unless it rises to the rank of witicism.

It is always silly to try to be witty. It is not polite to interrupt a person when conversing.

Refrain from the use of satire, even if you are master of the art. It is permissible only as a guard against impertinence, or for the purpose of checking personalities or troublesome intrusions. Under no circumstances whatever should it be used merely for amusement's sake, to produce an effect, or in order to show off one's wit.

It is extremely ill-bred to whisper in company.

A gentleman looks but never stares at those with whom he converses.

The names of any person, present or absent, to whom reference is made, should be given, if possible.

Place should always be given to one's elders.

Death is not a proper subject for conversation with a delicate person, or shipwreck with a sea captain's wife, or deformities before a deformed person, or failure in the presence of a bankrupt; for, as Heine says, "God has given us speech in order that we may say pleasant things to our friends." We should let it be the object of our conversation to please, and in order to do this we should not converse on subjects that might prove distasteful to any person present.

The Hen and Her
Cuddle-de-wees.

Our hen has a flock of cuddle-de-wees
That follow her round all day.
Some are yellow, and one is black,
And two are a pretty gray.
And at evening time when the sunset light
Is shining between the trees
Our hen picks out a shady spot
And calls to her cuddle-de-wees.
And there in the shadow beneath the trees
They run to her gladly, the cuddle-de-wees.
—St. Nicholas.

Names of Canadian Provinces.

Of course we all know that Nova Scotia is the Latin for New Scotland. The name was given by the Earl of Stirling's Scottish colony.

New Brunswick was so named in 1784 after the family of the reigning sovereign of Great Britain, the house of Brunswick.

Prince Edward Island was named after Edward, duke of Kent.

Quebec is from Kebec, a narrowing. This is an Indian word and was given to the site of the first French settlement because the St. Lawrence river narrows there. The province took its name from the leading settlement.

Ontario is from the Indian Onontario, meaning beautiful lake. The province thus gets its name from one of its principal lakes.

Manitoba is also of Indian derivation. Manitou-be means the passing of the Great Spirit.

Saskatchewan is an Indian word in the Cree dialect meaning swiftly flowing water.

Alberta was named after the sixth daughter of Queen Victoria, wife of the Duke of Argyll, Louise Caroline Alberta.

British Columbia honors Columbus, the discoverer of America, and also the empire to which it belongs.—Halifax Herald.

Lighting the Candle.

"I'll bet you that I can light this candle," said George to Bobby, "without touching the wick."

"Go ahead and prove it," said Bobby shortly.

Since the coin episode he never disputed the possibility of a thing with George.

George lighted the candle and let it burn until the snuff was quite long.

Then he quickly blew it out. A thin thread of smoke rose. To this George quickly applied a lighted match.

Bobby started in amazement, for the flame ran down the smoke and rekindled the candle.

This is a simple experiment. If you try it you will be surprised at the distance from the candle you can hold the light and yet have the experiment succeed. It is a pretty and fantastic trick.

An Egg Race.

On either side of the room six large hard boiled colored eggs are placed in a line at intervals of about a foot. At the far end of each line is a large open basket or a coarsely woven nest. Two leaders are chosen, who, in turn, choose sides. A player from each side is given a large wooden spoon and stands at the near end of his line. At a signal each starts to spoon up the eggs one at a time, carrying them to the nest. A list of the winners on each side is kept, and at the end of the game the side which has the greater number is the winner. Small individual prizes may be given to all the players on the victorious side—for example, tiny nests filled with egg bonbons.

The Bottle Conjurer.

State to the company that it was proved some years ago at a theater that to crawl into a quart bottle was an impossibility, but the rapid progress made by the march of intellect in these enlightened times has proved that any person may crawl into a pint bottle as easily as into his bed. Having thus prefaced your intentions, you get a pint bottle and place it in the middle of the room, then go outside the door and, creeping into the room upon all fours, say, "Ladies and gentlemen, this is crawling in to the pint bottle."

Arbor Day.

Grow thou and flourish well.
Ever the story tell
Of this glad day.
Long may thy branches raise
To heaven our grateful praise
Waft them on sunlight rays
To God above.

"Let music swell the breeze
And ring from all the trees"
On this glad day.
Bless thou each star at hand
O'er all our happy land.
Teach them thy love's command,
Great God, we pray.

Deep in the earth today
Safely thy roots we lay.
Tree of thy love,
Grow thou and flourish long.
Ever our grateful song
Shall its glad notes prolong
To God above.

FROM THE EMERALD ISLE

Irish Colleens Come to Teach Us How to Make Lace and Rugs.

COLLEENS RIGHT FROM IRELAND.

Here are four pretty Irish colleens who have come to America to teach us how to make real Irish lace, how to weave rugs and to do other useful things that have been done in the Emerald Isle for ages. They will visit all the large cities in the country and show specimens of their handiwork both completed and in the process of making.

Miss Marian J. O'Shea is in charge of the party, her companions being Colleens Eileen Noone, Bridget Quinn and Bridget McLaughlin. Only one of the girls expressed any desire to vote, and she denied that she was a suffragette. "I don't believe the women would make any worse mess of politics than the men have," explained Colleen Noone, who is a skilled leather carver and who also paints landscapes when she has the time.

The girls came to America under the auspices of the Gaelic league. It is believed that through the exhibition of the laces, rugs and embroideries Irish Americans may be stimulated to help revive the Celtic arts on this side of the water.

"It would be so much better for our girls to make these beautiful things than to wear out their young lives over machines in dingy factories," explained one of the representatives of the league.

Frock Trimmed With Beads.
It is evident that this is one of the very newest frocks for the coming season for the reason that the waist is a one piece affair embroidered in an artistic manner with porcelain beads. The skirt, a shallow plaited model, has a deep hem of Russian lace and is also trimmed with beads. Black velvet is used to finish the gown at the neck and belt.

Do You Get Your "Beauty" Sleep?

As a race we sleep too little. An infant's life is nearly all sleep. Gradually as the child grows older the hours of sleep are shortened to half the day, or about eight hours.

Youth until the age of twenty is reached requires fully ten hours' sleep. Although nature demands fewer hours of sleep in summer than in winter, it has been proved that eight hours of sleep are required for the average adult in good health.

By this is meant not simply eight hours in bed, but that amount of good, sound, restful sleep night after night.

Our power to work is intimately related to our ability to sleep, and there is no more reliable indication of sound health than the capacity to sleep naturally, and the more active and energetic the waking life the deeper the sleep.

Postal Clerks' Pay in Russia.

The remuneration of postal clerks in Russia includes emoluments which do not appear in the form of money. They are furnished quarters, heat and light, and in addition allowances for uniforms as well as medical attendance and medicine for themselves and their families. In cities like Moscow a large hospital is maintained for the convenience of postal clerks and carriers. Their children are admitted to the schools free of charge, which in Russia is quite an item of expense, especially in preparatory schools for colleges, to which the children of the titled and the wealthy only are admitted. The pay of clerks and carriers ranges from $12.50 to $18 per month. They may, moreover, receive gratuities from those to whom they deliver mail.

Police Methods in Berlin.

Berlin is the most strictly governed city in the world, and a stranger will be continually violating the ordinances and regulations without being conscious of his offenses. But the penalties are not severe, and the policeman who arrests you is prepared to impose the fine on the spot instead of calling a patrol wagon and taking you to the police station. You pay him a few marks, for which he gives you a receipt, and within twenty-four hours you must appear before the captain in charge of that precinct and turn in the receipt as a check upon the policeman who has arrested you.

A Snake Story.

This story is told of the late Dr. Emil Reich. One day when traveling he lay down to rest in the shadow of a bush and fell asleep. He awoke with a start to find that night was coming on and that rain had begun to fall. Quickly snatching up his umbrella, he tried to open it and, finding it worked stiffly, he pressed the spring vigorously. Suddenly there was a sound of ripping and tearing and a snake fell to the ground split in two. The reptile had apparently swallowed the umbrella as far as it could!

Original Era of Good Feeling.

The phrase applied to the administration of James Monroe, "the era of good feeling," first appeared in a Boston newspaper, the Columbian Sentinel of July 10, 1817. From that time until the present hour the two administrations of Monroe—a period of eight years, 1717 to 1825—are referred to in the terms of the newspaper paragraph which so aptly expressed the public sentiment of the day.—Magazine of American History.

GATHERING OF CAPITALISTS AND WORKERS AT WHITE OAK

Daughters of Liberty, the female auxiliary of the Junior Order, showing that Eureka Council, No. 37, is in a most flourishing condition.

Rev. S. E. Richardson was presented to make an address for the Pythians, his subject being Damon and Pythias. He made an eloquent speech; and showed that White Oak Lodge, No. 187, is one of the liveliest organizations of Pythians in this section.

James S. Scurlack, representing White Oak Camp, No. 304, Woodmen of the World, gave a good account of the work of his order in the community and in general.

All the speakers made feeling references to the Messrs. Cone and expressed the appreciation of the mill workers for the benefits bestowed upon them by the liberal proprietors of these great industries. Mr. Caesar Cone was then presented and for some time spoke to the assembly about matters of interest to the mutual welfare of the proprietors of the mills and their employees. He evidenced the fact that it is a source of great pride and gratification to the proprietors to have people of the high class of those residing at these mills, and said that all the money expended to improve conditions and to help his employees better their lot in life had been in the nature of a paying investment. On this account he said he preferred that his people would not feel that his dealings with them were altogether philanthropic. It is business to a large extent, he said.

Mr. Cone announced that he needed a rest and was going abroad early in June, but said he hoped the annual picnic would occur just as in the past and that all the people would enjoy it. He promised that when business conditions improve, as he believes they will ultimately, the company had in mind the erection of a larger and finer building than any that now grace the village, which is to be used for a club house for the men and women of the community and for other purposes of public utility and pleasure.

At the conclusion of the program Mr. Phoenix called for short talks and several responded with remarks which were appropriate to the occasion. Among the number were Bernard Cone, J. W. Cone, E. Sternberger, Herman Sternberger, Thomas Gardner, superintendent of White Oak Mills; James Bangle, superintendent of Proximity Mills, and G. P. Stone, superintendent of Revolution Mills; Mr. Barnes, Mr. Laforte, H. Pennington, Mr. Strong, Mr. Maxwell and Miss Pearl Wyche.

The entire meeting was characterized by good feeling such as is seldom found existing between employers and employees, and there was no incident of the entire evening to mar its pleasure for all present.

Following the program the crowd repaired to the large banquet hall, where a spread was served by the ladies of Eureka Council and others who assisted them. The banquet was an elegant affair and was not the least enjoyable feature of the evening.

The White Oak Orchestra furnished music during the entire evening. This is a musical organization which is most creditable to the village.

TOLD OF TOM JOHNSON.

Lamented Former Mayor of Cleveland Man of Many Notable Traits of Character.

For his hobbies, his extraordinary activity, his genius for advertisement, his political ambition and for—at one time at least—his personal popularity Tom L. Johnson was known from ocean to ocean. He was comparatively a young man when he died, but there were few idle days in his 56 years. Hustling and trying to figure out what other people were going to do before they got ready to do it aged him, as he himself once said in an interview.

He was a puzzle to most people, even his close friends. They could never understand how a man who had made a large fortune of the exploitation of street railroad properties, whose interests were bound up so closely with conservatism in business and finance, could dabble with Socialism and single taxism and Bryanism and a dozen other isms that Tom L. Johnson was particularly fond of. His long and pertinacious fight to force the street railways of Cleveland to give a three-cent fare with transfers gained him more notoriety perhaps than any of his performances, but it was lost finally last November, when Mr. Johnson was beaten by a Republican for the Mayoralty.

He took the defeat hard. That and financial reverses which had greatly reduced his fortune seriously affected his health. His failure to be re-elected as Mayor of Cleveland ended his political career. His fortune had dwindled from perhaps $10,000,000 to a small sum. He announced cheerfully enough about a year ago that he was broke.

Tom L. Johnson was born in Scott county, Kentucky, in July, 1854. His parents named him Thomas Loftin, but nobody ever called him anything but Tom L. He was big and breezy and Tom L. fitted him much better than the more dignified appellation. When he was a small boy his parents moved to Staunton, Va., and there he formed the first monopoly of his career. In those days there was only one mail a day to Staunton, and young Johnson secured the privilege of handling all the newspapers and periodicals that came to town. He got 15 cents for the daily papers and 26 cents for illustrated publications and cleared $88 in a very short time on that speculation. It was the first big money he had ever handled and it gave him his start in life. With that capital he went to Louisville and went to work for the street railroad company. Then he moved to Indianapolis, got an interest in the old street railroad company there and in a year or two became its manager. Before he was 22 years old he owned a controlling interest in the stock of the company and was worth half a million.

Next he tried Cleveland, bought an interest in a one-horse-street railroad line in the outskirts of the city, made money out of it, consolidated it with another line and within a year was the master of a trunk line system. His fortune grew rapidly. He acquired iron foundries and street car lines in other cities and went in for politics. With his brother, Albert L. Johnson, he owned at one time the old Nassau railroad in Brooklyn, which was sold to the B. R. T. system for all it was worth.

In 1888 as a free trader and single taxer he ran for Congress in the Cleveland district and was defeated. He tried again in 1890 and was elected easily. Two years later he was reelected by the surprising plurality of 3,200 in a Republican district. He was first elected Mayor of Cleveland in 1901 and served four successive terms, retiring on January 1, this year, after his defeat in the three-cent fare campaign. In his fight against the street railroad company in Cleveland he used publicity of the widest nature to gain his ends. Eventually the citizens of Cleveland wearied of the struggle and ended Johnson's political career. His principal work as Mayor of Cleveland was the securing of a franchise tax by which Cleveland obtained a legal valuation of the street railroad properties and his victory in obtaining a four-cent fare.

It was his ambition to become President of the United States, and he was mentioned several times as a possible candidate of the Democratic party. In 1903 he was nominated by the Ohio Democrats for Governor, but he was decisively beaten, a plurality of 113,000 being rolled up against him. He supported William Jennings Bryan in the three campaigns in which the Nebraska was the candidate for President, but he was not an advocate of Bryan's free silver ideas.

Mr. Johnson leaves two children, Loftin E., who lives in this city, and Bessie Flournoy, who married Signor Frederico Mariani, of Milan, Italy, in 1907 and got a divorce from him in December, 1908.

TY COBB TO GO INTO VAUDEVILLE

Philadelphia, April 12.—Ty Cobb will probably go on the stage next winter in a vaudeville act of some sort. Several managers have been after him, and some of the offers made him have been attractive.

Ty hasn't decided yet what sort of an act he will attempt. A monologue, baseball sketch, moving picture lecture and a number of other plans have been considered, but so far the Georgian hasn't been able to make up his mind just what he wants to do. There is no doubt that with any sort of an attractive act Cobb would be a great card in vaudeville.

The Important Problem

confronting anyone in need of a laxative is not a question of a single action only, but of permanently beneficial effects, which will follow proper efforts to live in a healthful way, with the assistance of Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, whenever it is required, as it cleanses the system gently yet promptly, without irritation and will therefore always have the preference of all who wish the best of family laxatives.

The combination has the approval of physicians because it is known to be truly beneficial, and because it has given satisfaction to the millions of well-informed families who have used it for many years past.

To get its beneficial effects, always buy the genuine manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only.

DANGERS OF FRIENDSHIP

By MRS. GEORGE BRANDT WINTHROP.

Not the beauty of friendship, or the helpfulness of friendship, about which much has been written, and might still be said, but the dangers of friendship. And this because girls need a word of caution.

One very great danger about our intercourse with those whom we love and who love us, lies in our readiness to judge for ourselves by what others see of us. They are naturally trying to think the best of us. They look at us in the most kindly way possible, say of us the nicest things they can. And we, who are never slow to perceive our own views.

We make out the best case for ourselves—deceptively mention things we have done or said, until words are twisted and truth cast to the winds in the effort to appear more lovable than we really are.

Remember that this seeking of the praise and approbation of our friends is nothing short of idolatry.

When we feel the longing to be approved by our friends we shall be wise if we hold ourselves still for a moment, of thinking so? There is danger in friendship when we judge ourselves by somebody else's kindly opinion.

There is danger, too, if we are over eager to be approved. We are anxious sometimes to gain the good opinion of our friends.

"How kind, how unselfish, how clever I must be!" No, we don't actually say this; but are we not often on the verge of merits, half unconsciously adopt their

Then there are irreligious friends. Great dangers and difficulties lie in our dealing with them, for they may be very attractive and clever, and kind and pleasant, and we may be able to see no harm in keeping up friendship with them; and yet if we mean to live our lives in God, and they live theirs without him, we cannot afford to risk an intimacy with them.

This may seem to be a hard thing, especially to a girl who is ready to hero worship anyone more attractive than herself. She must recollect that if she means to follow Christianity, the "giving up" part of it, which is its essence, cannot be ignored.

The work we are all set to do in the world is to our best for everyone. It is a glorious work, and it is all that we can be; nothing further is in our power.

We don't do it. If we did, if we put ourselves aside, the world would be a much better place than it is.

ANOTHER WONDER OF SCIENCE.

Biology has Proved that Dandruff is Caused by a Germ.

Science is doing wonders these days in medicine as well as in mechanics. Since Adam lived, the human race has been troubled with dandruff, for which no hair preparation has heretofore proved a successful cure until Newbro's Herpicide was put on the market. It is a scientific preparation that kills the germ that makes dandruff or scurf by digging into the scalp to get at the root of the hair, where it saps the vitality, causing itching scalp, falling hair, and finally baldness. Without dandruff hair must grow luxuriantly. It is the only destroyer of dandruff sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

CARE OF THE HANDS

(By CONSTANCE CARRUTHERS.) Quite as much care is necessary for the hands as for the complexion, and expert treatment is called in after a season or neglect. Ladies who appreciate well-kept hands must remember that regular attention is important.

Massage keeps the skin firm and a certain discrimination must be exercised in selecting cream for this purpose as well as soap for washing. One day's use of a soap that does not suit the individual skin is sufficient, in cold weather, to nullify the improvement gained by the specialist's treatment.

No woman who possesses even the most superficial knowledge concerning the structure of the human skin fails to realize the delicacy of texture of the outer covering. She chooses her emollient cream or her astringent lotion with the utmost care. A dry skin requires soap that forms a good lather.

Cold water is preferred by many people, in which case a good cream is necessary in wintry weather. After the hands have been thoroughly dried and a cream that quickly settles has been rubbed into the skin, it is a nice habit to finish them with a dash of perfumed powder, particularly just before putting on gloves.

All the little appliances used for manicure have become not only cheaper but neater and more tasteful than they were even at a recent date. It is not sufficient to buy cream, powder, a bleach or acid and set to work without nail file and orange sticks.

Every professional manicurist has her own specialties, and the amateur who keeps her own nails brilliant would do well to emulate her. Some nails are of thin quality, and easily polished, others are of thicker substance and require more frequent and more sustained application of the polishing pad.

The woman who has found the toilet requisites that suit her is not easily lulled to make an essay with new ones. Improvements, however, should be studied in every direction and early spring is the season when the results of scientific research are put on the market.

Motorists who have braved the winds of the last week, girls who have been skating, have all made appointments with complexion specialists. Electric massage is excellent and quite a number of clever people learn to use the essential mechanism for themselves.

Indeed a certain deftness of touch, a little knowledge of the muscles of the face and nerves are necessary in these days, when a high standard of personal hygiene is demanded. This knowledge is not a dangerous thing, it is useful.

With regular periodic treatment from a specialist, the woman who has had a few lessons in face massage and manicure is in a position easily to keep herself thoroughly conversant with new methods and latest fashions in toilet matters.

"A man tried to pick my pocket yesterday in the street, but my wife prevented him."

"Did she grapple with him; or just scream?"

"Neither, She wasn't there."

"Then how could she prevent him?"

"She had been through my pocket first."

FINANCE IN THE HOME

(By CARA REESE.)

Now you see you have taken in money without touching money. Somebody owes you a dollar and pays back the dollar by handing it over to another party whom you owe.

It is this process which is so bewildering to the lay mind in the domestic realm. It is this process which causes considerable heated argument in the best regulated families. Mother borrows a dollar from pater familias and pays back the dollar by sending it in the millinery shop as a drop to the purchase of daughter's headgear, and liquidates with the pater by calling attention to the fact that he is delinquent in daughter's spending money.

Or some one else borrows cash from a member of the family, but later pays the small bill at the door and then informs the party of the first part that money matters are square. This is a case where you take in money without touching the money or without getting a grip on the door receipt either. Lots of obligations are squared off this way. The small home borrowings are liquidated by settling the scores of the one who loaned carfare, church change, or the emergency shortages. In other words, when you loan small change within the home circle, you are sure of getting it back promptly, but without fingering the cash!

Most folks like the "feel" of money. This is why there is reluctance sometimes in handing out dimes, quarters, and "halves" in the sanctity of the fire-side. This is why the same dimes, quarters and "halves" are tenderly squeezed and bidden a fond farewell ere they pass from possession. That fond crush is the last. You will be paid back squarely and righteously, but you will never finger the cash.

Sometimes there is a tangible evidence in the shape of an itemized statement, to wit: "Borrowed from the pater, one dollar. Disbursed the same, two nickels daily for the carfare, one dime in the pew on Sunday, paid for spearmint, sodas, etc., in the corner drugstore; no balance remaining." Another case of taking in money, a call loan as it were, but without touching money.

The great majority of the empty-pocket citizens and wage-earners are those who are taking in cash continually, but are spared the trouble of fingering the same. It is a long cry from poverty. Though the itching fingers may not find the price of a meal in the pocket, yet there is wealth to your credit. There is money coming in regularly, though you are denied the seeing or the feeling of it.

It is the same in gigantic business operations, or when wealth is fabulous, money comes in, and money goes out, but no fingers ever touch it and no vision is manifest. There is really no money after all. Itemized statements endeavor to keep accounts square and to catch up on the imaginary. But the real thing is no more in evidence than the coin which belongs to your empty and obliging pocket. It is a part of the great scheme of buying and selling to take in money without touching money. It is all part of the family plan, to take in money without touching money; be gentle with home borrowers.

A Spring Suggestion by a Trained Druggist.

Appendicitis and many other ills come from Constipation and over-loading with food which the system cannot care for. The bowels must be cleared and anti-septics to give their normal functions and this should not be done by strong Cathartics, as every physician will tell you. Vick's Little Liver Pills have been the bowels and mild stimulation to the lazy liver and thus cure trouble in adults or children.

THIN FOLKS MADE FAT

The Way Samose Works Its Wonders—Guaranteed By Howard Gardner. More than half the readers of The Telegram would give almost anything to be plump and rosy instead of thin and scrawny.

Physicians and chemists for years have studied the problem of making a flesh-forming food, but it is only within the last few months that a bright man discovered the prescription that taken with the daily meals gave a positive increase in flesh. In fact it was so certain in its action that a guarantee was attached to each package stating that if weight did not increase as a result of using it, the purchase price would be refunded.

Howard Gardner has secured the agency in Greensboro for Samose, and as the percentage of satisfactory results from the use of this prescription is so nearly one hundred per cent he feels there is no risk in offering to refund the money if Samose does not do all that is claimed for it.

Everybody that is thin and out of health should begin today the use of Samose with a guarantee like this.

about which we hear so much, does not mean living on one food exclusively, but on foods that harmonize.

Certain elements of nutrition are essential to health, but all these elements cannot be obtained from any one food—hence the necessity of a variety.

Deficiency of one or more of these elements, such as iron, for instance, in the blood, will cause anaemia, rundown condition and sleeplessness.

If you are one of the unfortunates who have drifted into this state, change your diet, eat foods that are rich in the mineral elements of nutrition, and take Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic, which contains no oil and supplies iron to the blood in the most easily assimilated form.

Vinol creates an appetite, aids digestion, makes pure, healthy blood. In this natural manner it builds up the run-down, weak and debilitated. If you don't find this to be a fact we will return your money if you will try a bottle. Fariss-Klutz Drug Co., Greensboro, N. C.

MODERN IDEAS IN BALL.

New Baseball Park in Washington Will Be Built Among the Most Modern Lines.

Washington, April 12.—The destruction of the ball park here and the erection of the new concrete plant gives Washington accommodations for the fans befitting a major league club something which was not the case in the past.

With the new Washington park already in process of construction, the American league can boast of first-class modern stands in six of the eight cities on its circuit.

Shibe park in Philadelphia was the pioneer in great baseball improvements in the American league. Then came the fine and up-to-date Cleveland park, although it is somewhat smaller than the Philadelphia structure. Comiskey went a little further than Shibe, and his new grounds, opened last summer, are the largest in baseball.

Frank Farrell expects to even outshine everybody else in the new plant that he is erecting in the Bronx. It was originally planned to open the park July 4, but because of some vexations that delayed the constructions it will not be finished until the beginning of the 1912 race.

St. Louis' great park, which was opened to the public before Shibe park, represents late ideas in construction and can seat tremendous crowds. Only two owners have failed to be influenced by the enterprise of the others, Boston and Detroit have antiquated wooden stands.

The Boston park has the redeeming feature that it can take care of a big crowd, but the Detroit stands are both old and small. A 10,000 crowd at Detroit sends spectators into the field.

President Taylor, of Boston is liberal, and has already given hints that he will build when he can get the suitable ground. Perhaps even the Detroit management may follow in the line soon, and then the American league will have eight imposing and capacious parks.

"He used to kiss me every time we passed through a tunnel before our marriage," said the little woman, with sad reflections.

"And does he do so now?" asked her bosom friend.

"No; he takes a drink."

"Funny thing about love, isn't it?"

"What's funny?"

"If a man offers it and a girl wants it, she always returns it."

OKLAHOMA TOWN WIPED OUT BY FIERCE TORNADO

By Publishers' Press.

Big Heart, Okla., April 12.—Eight persons were killed and ten injured and the entire town practically destroyed by a terrific tornado which struck Big Heart this afternoon at 4 o'clock. But few houses were left standing.

The tornado was accompanied by a driving rain and swept every thing in its path. Houses were blown from their foundations and occupants hurled through the air. The entire town was demoralized and telegraphic communication cut off.

The town had a population of 400. It is situated on the Midland Valley Railroad.

TORNADO HIT KANSAS.

By Publishers' Press.

Topeka, Kans., April 12.—A tornado, travelling in a southeasterly direction destroyed the town of Whitting, 35 miles north of Topeka, late this afternoon. Sixty houses were blown down and over thirty persons injured.

The meager reports received here by telephone tonight indicate that the towns of Powhattan, Netawaka and Eskridge were also struck by the same storm.

Jail Escape is Again in Limbo

Arthur Seales, one of the negroes who escaped from the Guilford jail several days ago, was captured yesterday morning by the chief of police of Madison. Deputy Sheriff W. J. Weatherly left yesterday afternoon to bring Seales back to jail. Seales was a Rockingham prisoner and came from the vicinity of Madison. Nothing has been heard from the other four prisoners that escaped.

His Long Suit.

He had written essays critical and digests analytical. His articles political were very widely read. He'd produced some tales of mystery, of travel, love and history; his scientific treatises light o'er the land had shed. He wrote about photography, geography, stenography; he'd finished a biography of some distinguished man. His views upon geometry and mystic trigonometry were everywhere declared to be on the progressive plan. His tracts on modern sciences, mechanical appliances, hydraulics, steam and railroads were indubitably received. His writings on morality were of superior quality—were publicly commended, if they weren't quite believed. His verses so poetical, abstruse and theoretical, delighted those who patronize the poets as a fad, but the manuscript he thought the best, the one that money brought the best, was just a simple, wisely worded, big newspaper ad.—Newspaperdom.

Little Boy Grizzly.

Enos A. Mills, writing of his adventures with a pet bear known as Little Boy Grizzly, says: "He and I had a few foot races, and usually, in order to give me a better chance, we ran downhill. In a 200 yard dash he usually passed three or four times and waited for me to catch up, and I was not a slow bled either. The grizzly, though apparently awkward and lumberly, is one of the most agile of beasts. I constantly marveled at Grizzly's lightness of touch or the deftness of movement of his forepaws. With but one claw touching it he could slide a coin back and forth on the floor more rapidly and lightly than I could. He would slide an eggshell swiftly along without breaking it. Yet by using one paw he would without effort overturn rocks that were heavier than himself."—Suburban Life.

Tobaccoists Here to Play Patriots

This afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at Cone park Manager Doyle's Patriots will line up against the Danville team. The Tobaccoists are the champions of the Virginia League and the management states that the team this year is better than it was last season. The Tobaccoists will arrive at noon, wearing a brand new suit of batting and fielding clothes. They will contest the Patriots this afternoon and also tomorrow afternoon.

Manager Doyle's bunch of players have been practicing at every opportunity and are able to put up a good article of ball. Yesterday afternoon a practice game was played with the Mt. Pleasant College nine and the locals were victors by the score of eleven to two. The players are confident of taking the contest this afternoon.

Local Amateur Games Played Yesterday.

Yesterday afternoon Randolph avenue defeated Dakota street by the score of one to nothing.

The little West Ends defeated Spring Garden yesterday by the score of 16 to 11. The pitching of Tunstall and the playing of Moore were the features. Batteries: West End—Tunstall, Moore and Sanders; Spring Garden, Forney and Hopkins.

VIRGINIA-CAROLINA GAME IS NOT YET SETTLED.

The management of the Virginia University ball team has not as yet decided where the final game of the Carolina-Virginia series will be played. It is understood that many Virginians do not want the game played in Carolina, claiming that it is more for sport than for profit. It is expected that the matter will be decided today. Greensboro fans are firm in their belief that the game will come to Greensboro unless it is decided to play it as scheduled in Charlottesville.

Bad Fire in Alabama.

Birmingham, Ala., April 12.—Fire this morning destroyed almost the entire business section of Leeds, Ala., a cement manufacturing town, eight miles east of Birmingham. Whitmire & Sons, general merchandise dealers, were the heaviest losers. The total damage amounts to $27,500 with less than $10,000 insurance.

Case Against Editor Continued.

District Attorney Seawell of the Eastern District Federal Court returned today from Elizabeth City where court was convened yesterday by Judge Connor for a few hours. It was found that there was only one case pending. That was the indictment of Editor W. O. Saunders, of the Independent and Down Homer for sending obscene publications through the mails. The grand jury returned a true bill against him, but his counsel, especially ex-Gov. Aycock, were not able to attend for trial at this time, and the case was continued.

Freight Rates on Brick.

While the corporation commission has made no order in the Goldsboro-Durham freight rate on brick as to whether the "internal improvement" special rate the Goldsboro brick-makers have enjoyed for several years shall terminate April 15 or whether there shall be a deferment of the application of the old higher rate until present contracts are filled, it is understood that the commission is disposed to allow the completion of all contracts that were made on the basis of the special rate. The restoration of the old rates was due to complaints made by brick yard owners in the Durham section who found that the Goldsboro competitors were delivering brick in Durham for within fifteen cents per thousand of the rate within fifteen miles of the Bull City. Furthermore, it is a settled fact that the commission will before a great while now order a general reduction in the freight rate on brick the state over on the basis of "splitting the difference" in the present general schedule and the "internal improvement" rate that was in force between Durham and Goldsboro. This reduction, too, was made on application of the railroad company. And was at the time the Erwin cotton mills were being constructed.

Train Service Contentions.

People throughout this section of the state and especially on the Goldsboro-Wilmington line of the Atlantic Coast Line will be interested to know that there will in all probability be an order settling the contest before the corporation commission as to additional Wilmington-Goldsboro train service with an early morning train out of Wilmington, some time next week. Corporation Commissioner Lee is out of the city for a couple of weeks and will be back Monday and the statement is made that when he returns the commission will take up this matter with the determination to settle it. The issues are the extension of the run of the Norfolk-Goldsboro shoo fly to Wilmington; the putting on of an independent early morning shoo fly out of Wilmington to Goldsboro, or leaving the service as it has been for many years. The indications are that either the extension of the Norfolk-Goldsboro run to Wilmington or the additional independent early morning shoo fly out of Wilmington will be ordered. The latter would make no connections at Goldsboro north or for Raleigh and Greensboro. The extension of the Norfolk shoo fly would provide northern and western connections.

Big Capital For Power Development Plants.

It is a notable fact that the combined capital of the Yadkin River Power Company and the Carolina Light and Power Company, applied corporations of this city for the development of the Blewitt Falls power plant near Rockingham, Richmond county, is $11,500,000. The plans of the allied corporations to transmit a great part of the current to a big transformer plant here and distribute it throughout this section of the state for light and power purposes and to ultimately develop interurban car lines with it came in for highest commendation last night at a meeting of the Raleigh Chamber of Commerce.

Raleigh Wants Teachers.

There is a movement on foot to induce the North Carolina Teacher's Assembly to come to Raleigh this summer for its annual meeting. For several years the assembly has been alternating between the seashore and the mountains of Western Carolina and the Raleigh Chamber of Commerce is given to understand that there is a strong probability that the executive committee will call the assembly for Raleigh this time, the state departments, the extensive public school system and the colleges being powerful factors in creating a demand on the part of the teachers that the next session be held here. The chamber of commerce is undertaking to raise $250 toward the expenses of the assembly in the event it comes to Raleigh.

PRIER BROKE ALL FLIGHT RECORDS LONDON TO PARIS

By Publishers' Press.

Moulinaux, France, April 12.—Pierre Prier today broke all records for a single flight when he flew from the center of London across the English Channel to Moulinaux, a suburb of Paris, a distance of 290 miles. The previous record was made by Lieutenant Cameriman, who flew 147 miles last December. This flight was made in France.

Takes Dinner From Mantelpiece.

New York, April 12.—When notice was posted recently that the 680 employees of the ten-story appraiser's stores building in Washington street were to test the spiral chute fire escape, some one sprinkled tacks and screws on the turns of the slide. Those who first went down now eat standing up.
